The travel editorial brand's annual list includes the top experiences in worldwide travel, including accommodations, restaurants, amenities and more

AUSTIN, TX – January 7, 2019 — The Hideaway Report, a travel editorial brand that provides independent reviews and recommendations of the most incredible hideaways and experiences around the world, today announced its annual Editors' Choice Awards featuring the best in travel from 2018. Formerly known as the Grand Awards, the highlights of the year are reflected in the January edition of the member-exclusive publication the Hideaway Report. The 2019 Editors' Choice selections will be announced throughout the month and can be found at www.hideawayreport.com/editors-choice.

Each January, the Hideaway Report recalls the travel experiences of its editorial staff from the year prior, focusing on hideaway hotels and the surrounding experiences that proved the most memorable. In 2018, Hideaway Report editors flew more than 190,000 miles, visited 27 countries and stayed in 112 hotels, of which 58 were recommended. Of those, even fewer have the honor of receiving an Editors' Choice Award.

To be considered for the Editors' Choice Awards, properties must be relatively small in size, possess strong personalities and demonstrate a dedication to personal service. Hotels must also have been reviewed in a 2018 edition of the monthly Hideaway Report. Only the most exceptional are selected by editors, who, going beyond a checklist, use their decades of travel experience to distinguish the truly enchanting from the merely excellent.

In addition to the Hideaway of the Year and the other hotel winners, the 2019 awards include the Best Hotel Restaurants, Hospitality Awards, Best Amenities, Hotel Standouts, Best Travel Experiences and Unforgettable Memories. Special recognition is given to Restaurants of the Year, Best Bar, Most Unique Luxury Amenity and Most Memorable Wine Tastings, among others.

“Our longstanding mission is to bring honest and perceptive reviews to readers year after year. Our members will attest to the level of service and the quality of accommodations and amenities we expect,” said the editor-in-chief of the Hideaway Report. “We are pleased to reveal the 2019 Editors' Choice winners, which represent the best hideaways and travel experiences that we have discovered across the globe during the past 12 months.” As with all Hideaway Report editors, the editor-in-chief travels anonymously to maintain independence in the process of reviewing hotels and hideaways for the brand.

Delivering content since 1979, the Hideaway Report inspires exceptional travel through honest, independent reviews of the world's best hideaways and hotel experiences. Members of the Hideaway Report community are exclusively privy to recommendations and travel notes from its team of trusted editors.
